Backdrop - printed stationery

A picture drawn behind every page, faded to about a third. Look for it reaching all four edges of the sheet, under the margins included, for the text staying readable over it, and for it being the same picture in the same place in the PDF and in the SVG beside it - each file was consistent with itself on the day the watermark turned one way in one and the other way in the other. It is decoration, so a reader speaking the page aloud says nothing about it: that half shows in a validator, never on the page.

The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes.

supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes.
The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes.

undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes. The supplier undertakes.