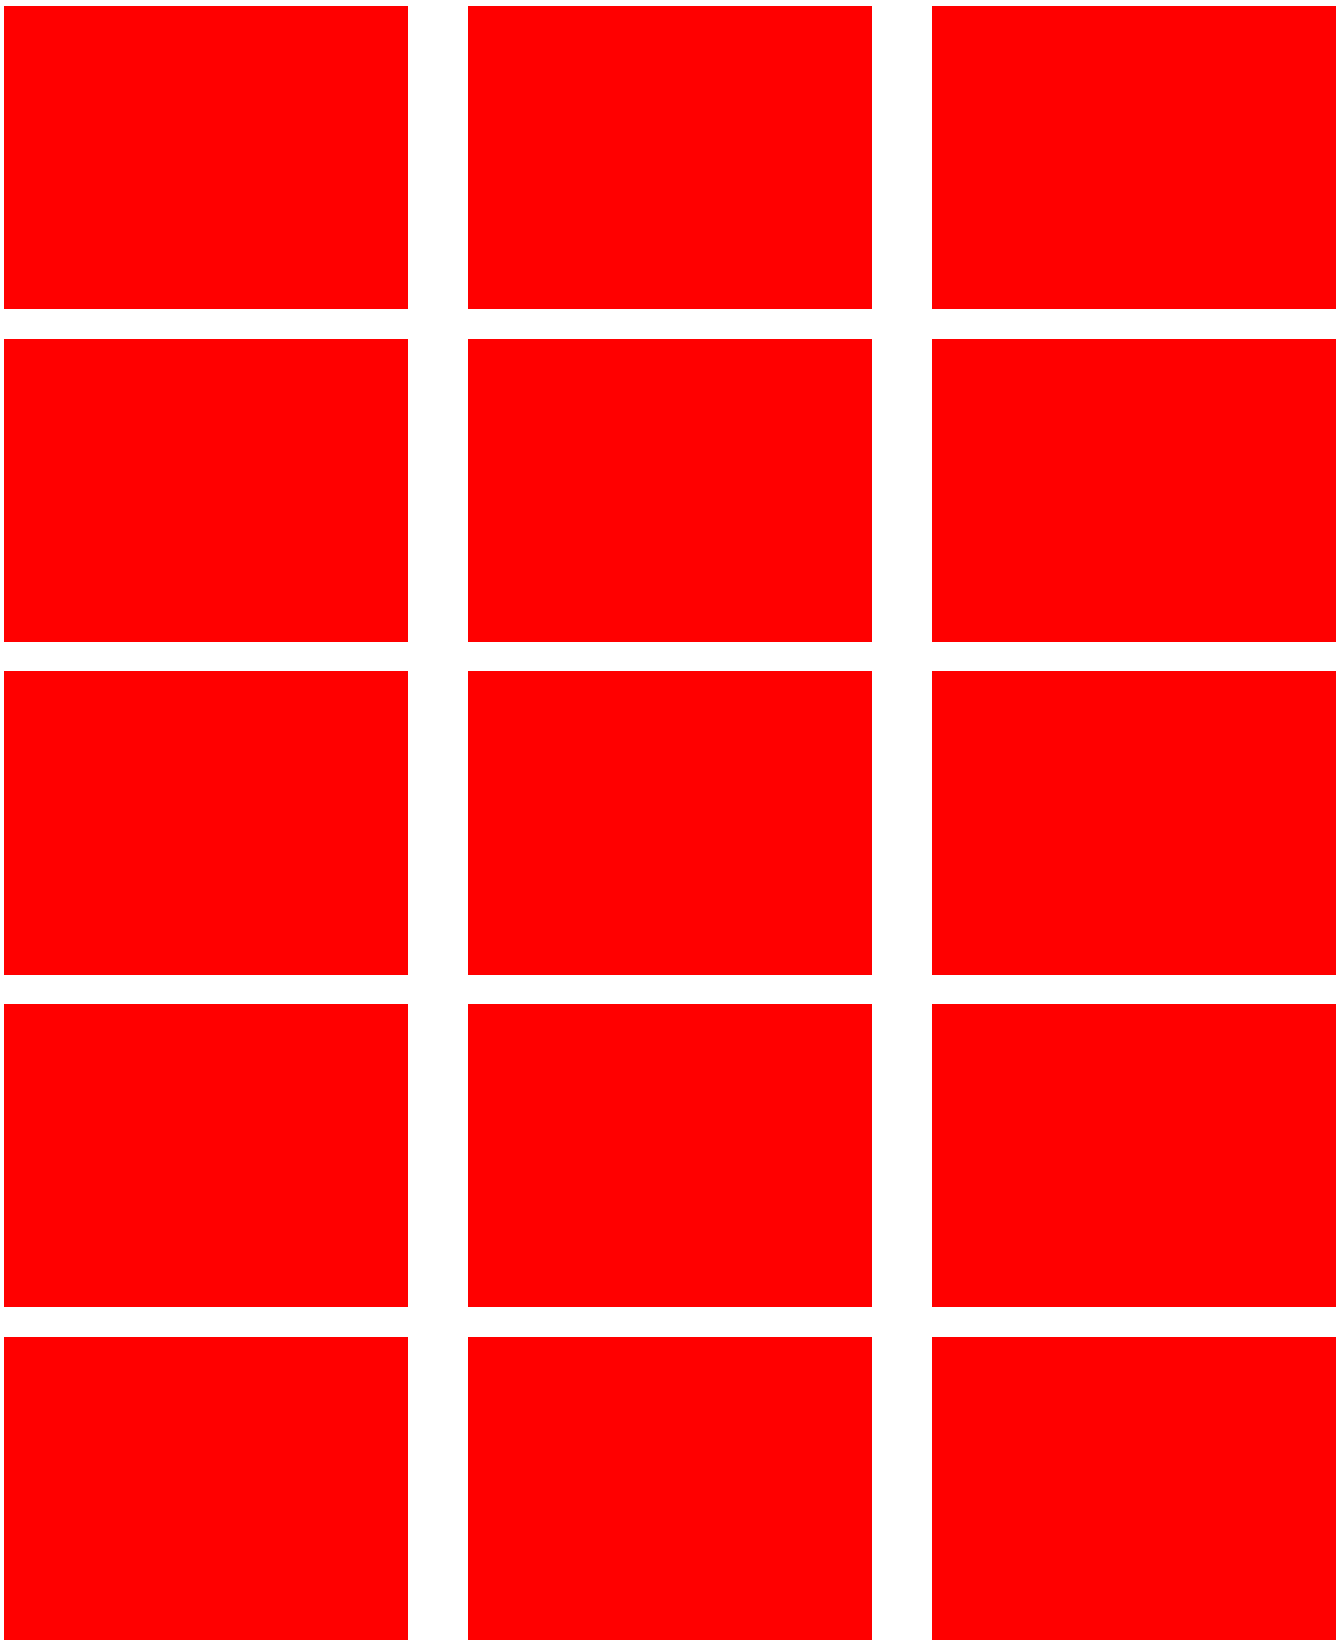
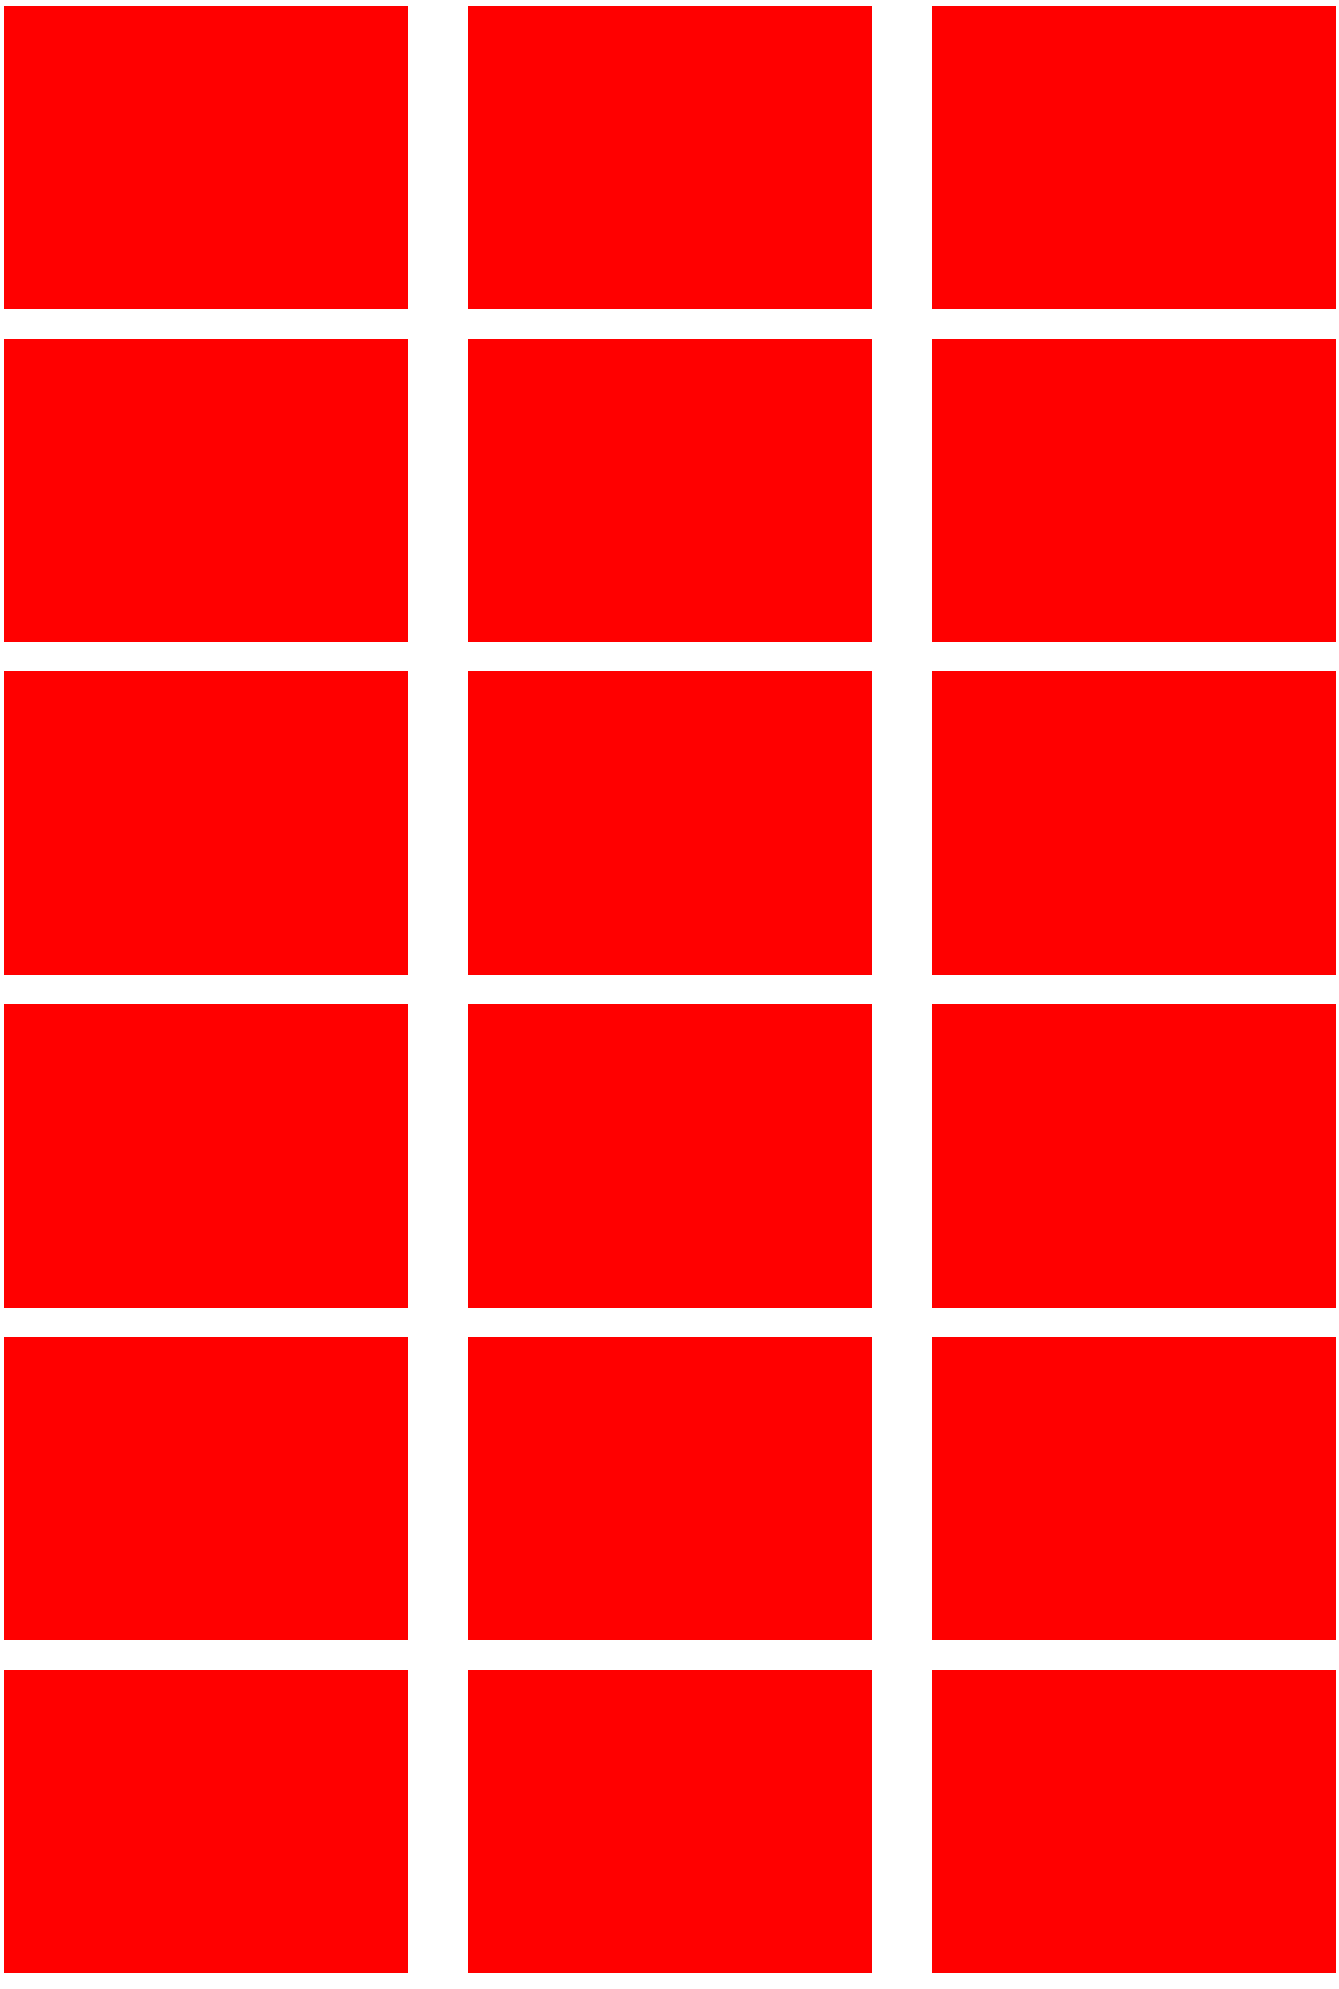
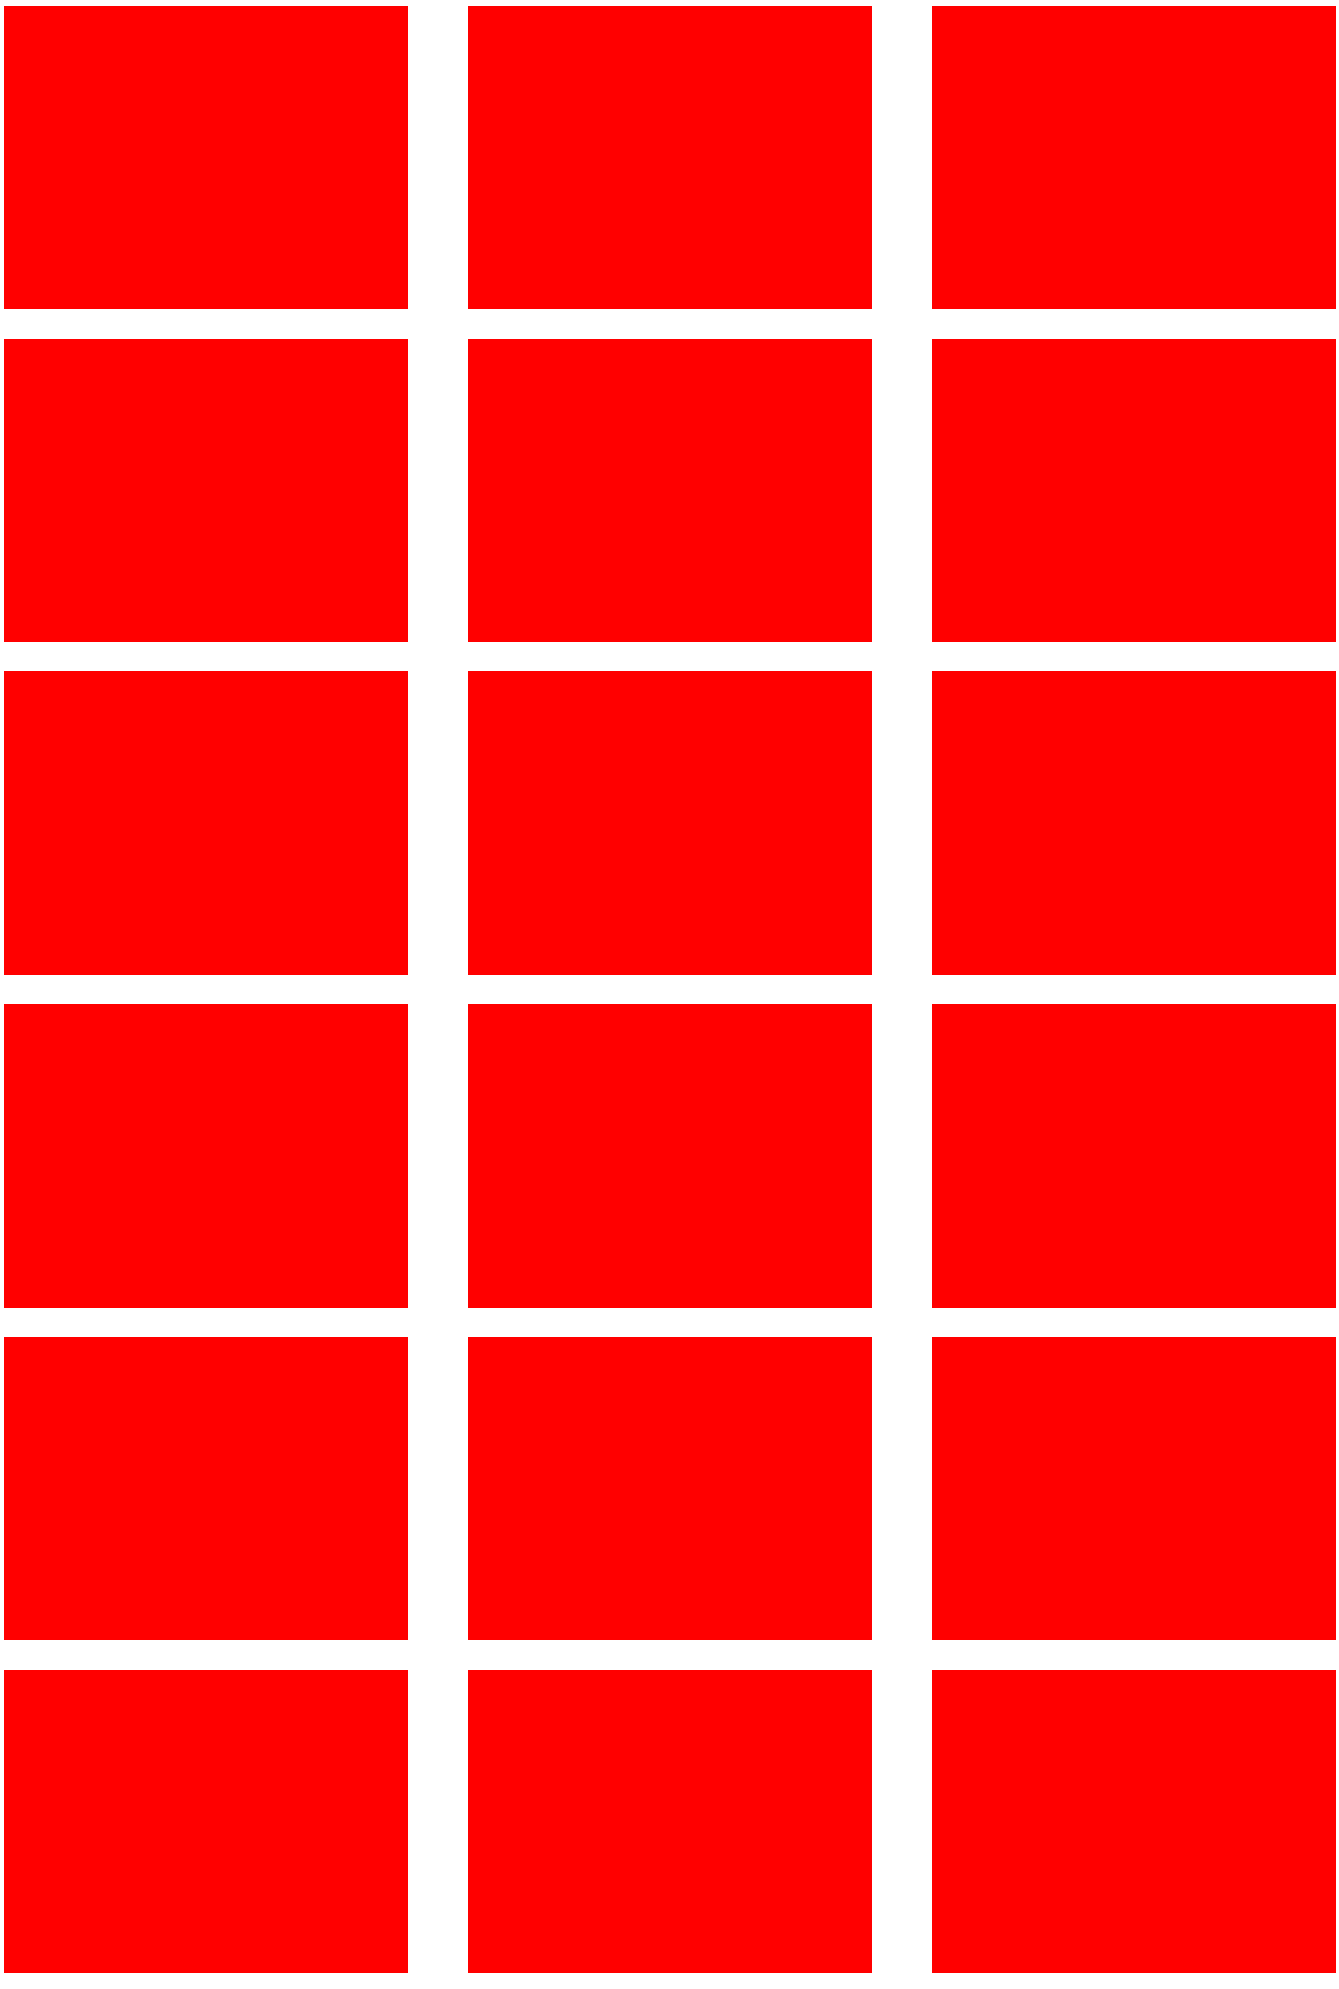
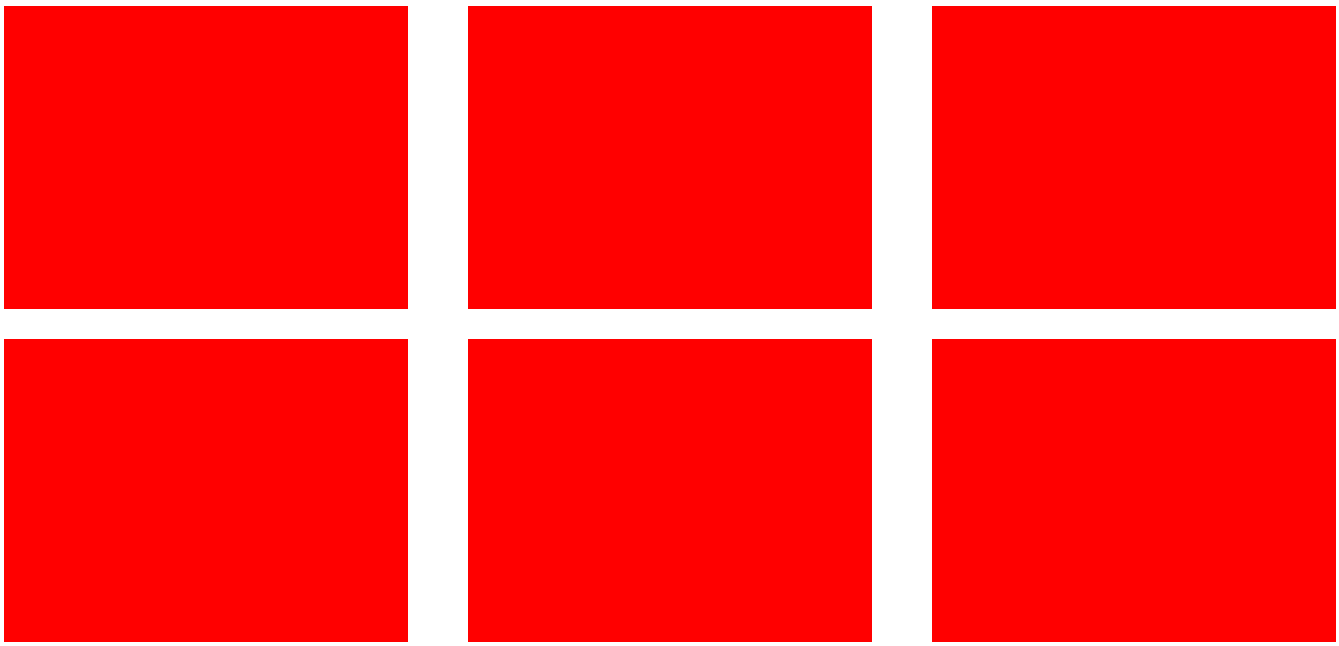
Contact sheet








One picture is described in the template and repeated for every record in the data. Look for whole rows moving to the next page rather than a row being sliced across the break, for each picture keeping its proportions inside its cell, and for the records carrying no photograph leaving no empty frame behind.